HENRY HILBUN CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS

Withdraws From Race Because of Ill Health

Hon. Henry Hilbun, Laurel attorney and former State Commander of the American Legion, who was a candidate for Congress in this district, has withdrawn from the race because of ill health. Mr. Hilbun issued the following statement:

"Since announcing that I would enter the race for Congress, I have suffered an impairment in health and strength, which, though not particularly serious, makes it inadvisable for me to continue in the campaign. This decision has been reached on the advice of three physicians who feel that I would not be able to engage in active campaigning for sixty or ninety days. They advise that it will require regulated diet, rest and treatment to restore my health and strength."

We are, indeed, sorry to note the illness of Mr. Hilbun. He is a splendid gentleman, loved and respected by all who know him. However, we are happy to note his withdrawal from the congressional race, which now leaves Mr. Colmer with only one opponent.

MISS JULIETTE PERRE CALLED TO SERVICE

With American Nurses Corps—Honored at Shower

Miss Juliette Perre was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the local King's Daughters & Sons Hospital on Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, following the business session of the Emergency Medical Field unit of Bay St. Louis. Miss Perre is the first member of this organization to be called into service with the American Nurses Corps as a Second Lieutenant and will leave shortly for active duty.

The guests were served a buffet supper and Miss Perre was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, for which she very graciously thanked her well-wishers and expressed her deep regret in leaving her congenial co-workers and her many friends in Bay St. Louis.

TAYLOR SCHOOL CLOSES SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL TERM

On May 29, 1942, the pupils of Taylor School completed a very successful year's work and the program rendered by the school was patriotic and therefore very interesting.

At the close of the exercises the children received their defense stamp books, and several awards for perfect tests in spelling. Also six gold medals were given for perfect attendance to the following named pupils:

2nd Grade: Patsy Poyadour, Shirley Mae January, and Raymond Morel.

3rd Grade: Alton Morel, John Anthony January, and Ann Green.

Our good friend, Mr. Geo. Pitcher, gave two medals, a friend in New Orleans paid for two and Mrs. Stock still gave two. We are very grateful to these friends for their financial help.

Mention must be made of the activities carried on during the year. First, a hot lunch served every day. This was made possible by the WPA Lunch Project with the help of the teacher.

The party and the Christmas Tree together with an Easter Egg hunt and a very enjoyable party were made possible by the generosity of Mr. Pitcher. Indeed the children of Taylor School call Mr. Pitcher their fairy "God Father" and rightly so for he makes it possible for them to enjoy a great deal of pleasure mixed with the every day school routine.

The principal of Taylor School is Mrs. W. W. Stockstill one of the best teachers in this section. Mrs. Stockstill, has devoted her life to teaching the children of Bay St. Louis, and she can look back with justifiable pride at some of her students who have taken their places in the business world of today.

BAY ST. LOUIS BOYS ARE PLEDGED TO FRATERNITIES

Two Bay St. Louis boys were among the 65 students pledged to twelve fraternities last week at the end of the University of Mississippi's first summer rushing, according to lists received by R. M. Guess, Dean of Men, Lando Goldman, pledged Kappa Sigma fraternity, and John McCulloch, Weston pledged Sigma Nu.

Fraternity pledging is made possible this summer by the fact that a full semester's work is now being offered in the summer session. Sororities voted out to rush or pledge before the fall session.

WAR BOND DRIVE STARTED

Local Committees Active—Reports Very Encouraging

The vast job of taking Mississippi's War Savings "pulse" started Tuesday (June 16) as an army of volunteer workers began canvassing every county in the State to secure War Savings pledges from every person with an income.

The Victory pledge campaign is a prelude to the task of reaching the Treasury Department's national War Savings goal of a "billion a month." It is scheduled to be completed in Mississippi by the end of this week.

Calling on the people of Hancock County to cooperate with Mr. Foster Commagere, County War Savings Chairman, in "this gigantic patriotic effort," Orrin H. Swayze, State Deputy Administrator, has stressed the fact that pledges are entirely voluntary and are "in no sense an order for War Bonds or Stamps."

"The government wants to know," he said, "when it can expect funds derived in this way and in what amounts. Only through personal pledges can this be determined."

Further explaining the pledge campaign, County Chairman Mr. Commagere pointed out that "this is the democratic way to do things, and I know that we can count on the people of this community to come in 100 percent."

Hancock County's War Savings quota is $24,000.00 for June. It is estimated that this quota can be reached and maintained if every income earner in the county will pledge a regular amount of each paycheck.

The government is asking for an overall average of 10 percent of the national income. In this county some people will be able to exceed that amount while others will have difficulty in reaching it.

"That's why," said the county chairman, "we must have pledges from everyone. In the long run these pledges will balance out if we can secure a voluntary pledge from every person in the county."

CAMP STANISLAUS OPENED SUNDAY WITH LARGE ATTENDANCE

Camp Stanislaus opened Sunday at the school with the largest enrollment in its history according to Brother Peter, president of the college and director of the camp.

The camp offers study courses but is strictly recreational and all types of camp activities are offered. Brother Peter is assisted by twenty brothers from Mobile, Vicksburg, Baton Rouge, New Orleans, Thibodaux, Donaldsonville and Muskogee, Oklahoma.

FIFTY GIRLS AT ST. JOSEPH CAMP

St. Joseph's camp for girls which opens each year at the school has registered fifty girls at the opening on Sunday. These girls come largely from Louisiana with a small number registered from the coast.

The camp is under the direction of Mother St. John assisted by the associate sisters and several High School graduates are acting as camp counselors.

Already many activities have been planned for this week which include a slumber party, truck ride and Weiner roast. Mother St. John said that the camp is strictly recreational and that all features of entertainment belong to camp life are being offered.

LETTER OF APPRECIATION FROM MOTHER

Of Soldier Boy Entertained At Recreational Center

The people of Bay St. Louis have a reputation of being courteous, kind and considerate of all who come in their midst. This past week Mrs. Marguerite Backman, director of the recreational center at the Knights of Columbus home received the following letter from the mother of a soldier boy who was entertained at the lounge.

Yonkers, N. Y.
June 12, 1942
To the Members of Knights Of Columbus and Mrs. M. Backman:

I want to thank you and the Members of the K. of C. for the lovely day my son Joseph Bujarski spent at your lovely home. He wrote and told me what a cheerful day he had and you don't know how happy I am because he is made happy by others.

I hope some day I may be able to thank you all personally at some time or another.

Once again I would like to thank you Mrs. M. Backman and your committee for your kind hospitality to my son.

I remain,
MRS. ANNA BUJARSKI

Thoughts expressed by this mother are deeply appreciated by the workers at the recreational center and the people of Bay St. Louis are happy to know that much is being done to make the stay of these boys in our midst pleasant.

DRIVE TO SECURE RUBBER

Started June 15th To End June 30—Do Your Part; Get All Your Old Rubber In

One of the most urgent needs of the country today is rubber and President Roosevelt has directed that an all-out, nation-wide scrap rubber salvage campaign be held. This campaign started on June 15th and will continue through Tuesday, June 30th.

The War Production Board has been designated through the Bureau of Industrial Conservation, as the agency responsible for the supervision of this campaign. The nation's oil companies have been requested by the President to conduct this drive for the collection of old rubber during this period. Through the local gasoline filling stations all types of reclaimable scrap rubber will be bought at the uniform price of a penny per pound. The rubber collected will be sold to the Rubber Reserve Company, a subsidiary of the Reconstruction Finance Company.

Any amount in excess of the purchase price received for this rubber will be turned over by the oil industry to the U. S. O. the Army Relief, the Navy Relief and the American Red Cross, on an equal basis. There will be no profit made in the purchase or sale of this rubber.

The shortage of rubber is very critical at this time—so much so that the administration in Washington has proposed a nation-wide rationing of gasoline in order to conserve rubber. The final decision as to the rationing of gasoline will probably hinge directly upon the success of the campaign to collect old rubber. Even in the South, where gasoline is so plentiful, we may be compelled to follow a rationing program, unless the administration can be convinced that there is a sufficient amount of rubber on hand to be used for military purposes.

The success of this movement will depend upon two factors; the patriotic response of the operators of the individual service stations and the patriotic response of every individual citizen in a diligent, untiring search for every available pound of old scrap rubber that can be located.

We are certain that the people of Hancock County are going to do their utmost to find every available piece of rubber, and that the same will be turned in to one of the local service stations.

It has been brought to our attention that several of the children's clubs throughout the city of Bay St. Louis are busily engaged in finding the scrap rubber in the community. This is very commendable and the children should be encouraged to continue this good work.

Do not fall down on the job. Let's put Hancock County over the top in this drive for old rubber.

Dr. J. W. Davenport, Jr., of Southern Baptist Hospital Blood Plasma Unit in Charge—Compliments Hospital And People of Bay St. Louis

At the King's Daughters and Sons Hospital on Thursday, June 11th, the second blood bank for Hancock County was held. Dr. J. W. Davenport, Jr., of the Southern Baptist Hospital-Mobile Blood Plasma Unit was in charge and was assisted by Doctors Edith Loeber Ballard, M. J. Wolfe, and C. M. Shipp, and by Mrs. Ella Mabon, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. C. E. Craft, Miss Mary Wingenter, Miss Ida Edwards, Miss Juliette Perre and Miss Mildred Laughlin, all of the Emergency Medical Field unit, and by Mrs. C. L. Horton and Mrs. Stella Gex Catchings of the Civilian Defense office.

Dr. Davenport was very high in his praise of the work done at the King's Daughters Hospital. We are reproducing herewith a letter from Dr. Davenport to the editor of The Echo:

June 12, 1942
"Dear Mr. Favre:
The Mobile Unit of the Blood Plasma Service was in Bay St. Louis again yesterday and the response of the blood donors was even more magnificent than on the first trip when a record was established.

Now Bay St. Louis through the generosity of its citizens has established a new record which other communities may equal with great difficulty, but, I am certain, will never surpass.

I have only one objection to coming to Bay St. Louis and that is, I have to leave. Were it in my power, I would move the Southern Baptist Hospital there.

Allow me to take the privilege through the medium of the Sea Coast Echo to again thank the fine people of Bay St. Louis for their generous contributions to the Plasma Program of the Office of Civilian Defense and to compliment them on having one of the finest hospitals in which I have ever had the pleasure of working.

With best wishes, I am,
Sincerely yours,
J. W. Davenport, Jr., M. D."

There were 37 donors who gave their blood. The list of donors is as follows:

Mrs. Jules Burg, Mrs. T. G. Stegmann, Mrs. Horace Kergosien, Mrs. L. M. Gex, Mr. Kenneth Knoblock, Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois, Miss Luvenia Saucier, Mr. W. J. Reverend Father R. J. Sorin, Congratulated By Apostolic Delegate

Rev. Father R. J. Sorin, Pastor of the Catholic Mission at DeLisle, is in receipt of a card of thanks from Archbishop Cicognoni, through the kindness of Very Reverend Joseph Brunini, Chancellor of the Diocese of Natchez. The card received by Father Sorin is as follows:

"Archbishop Cicognoni, Apostolic Delegate to the United States, presents his respects to Rev. Father Sorin and thanks him for his kind thought in forwarding a copy of the interesting booklet on DeLisle and its Mission, and congratulates him on the good work already accomplished, and begs God to bless him abundantly."

Father Sorin is deserving of this recognition from the Apostolic Delegate. If ever a man was a real priest, Father Sorin is one. He has spent his life in one of the poor missions of Mississippi and has remained at his post of duty, when he probably could have gone to a larger and more prosperous parish. The people of DeLisle and its surrounding territory are his sole thought and he is happy and contented in the work that he is doing, and has been doing for the past forty years.

We extend to Father Sorin our congratulations and best wishes.

CONTROL OF THE SALE OF LIQUOR

MUCH has been said lately, relative to the sale of liquor to men in the armed service of our country, and that some action must be taken to control it.

During the last war, the law prohibited the sale of liquor to men in uniform. In our opinion, this did very little good, for it was an easy matter for the men in service to have some one purchase package liquor for them and there was as much drinking among the service men after the enactment of that law as before.

We can readily see the harm in selling too much liquor to our service men. One of the most abhorrent spectacles that one can behold, is to see a man in the uniform of the army or navy of his country, wallowing in the streets and public places in a drunken condition. In our opinion, this man has no respect for his uniform, nor for his country. We feel that once a man puts on that uniform, that he should respect it and his behavior should be such that it would command the respect of all people with whom he comes in contact.

Recently we noticed the actions and the demeanor of some of the men in service. The majority of these young men comport themselves as gentlemen. However, there are some few who are prone to imbibe just a little too freely, and, of course, this then casts a reflection on all of the men in uniform.

The principal fault, of course, lies with the person engaged in the sale of liquor. We have always been of the opinion, and still are, that this country would never have had a prohibition law, if it had not been for the actions of the men engaged in the sale of liquor. This remains true today. If another prohibition statute is enacted, it will be brought about by the people engaged in this business.

We believe that it is far better to have the open sale of liquor where the same can be, and should be regulated, in preference to having the "Blind Tigers" where there would be absolutely no control, with our young people sneaking in and out, drinking the famous brand of "Pop Skull" that would make one fight a wild cat.

It is our belief that if a soldier wishes to take a drink, that he should be allowed to go to a bar and take this drink, and that the bartender should exercise enough judgment to distinguish between the man, if he shows signs of becoming drunk. We believe that no package liquor should be sold to any soldier, or to any person when it is believed that this person is buying it for a soldier. If this practice were put into effect, we believe that it would not be long before the element seeking to have national prohibition statute enacted, would cease their fight.

Of course, Mississippi is a dry State and we are not supposed to have any bars; nevertheless, occasionally we might see one, but a word of advice to the boys who are operating bars in this locality, is to keep the boys in uniform sober. Do not allow them to become intoxicated in your place of business and do not sell them, or anyone for them, package liquor which would allow these boys to become intoxicated.

The people of the Coast are of very liberal thought, and a great majority are in favor of open bars, and do not believe in doing behind closed doors, what they would not do in public. However, they are not going to tolerate, nor condone the actions of unscrupulous people in the sale of liquor to excess to men in service. Accept a little advice and cure this situation yourself.

ELECTION

WE have reached the middle of June and there are only sixty days left before the primaries for the nomination of our Senator and Congressman. Up until this time there has been very little comment about the election.

People are busy carrying on their duties and helping to do whatever is possible for the winning of the war, and the election is not thought of. Candidates are unable to arouse the enthusiasm of the voting public. Our experience in politics teaches us that when we do not hear a lot of 'hulla baloo' prior to an election that the folks are pretty well satisfied with their elected officials. We do not believe that this election will be any different.

The candidates for Congress who are opposing Mr. Colmer are creating very little stir. In fact, we doubt seriously if some people even know that he has opposition. In the Senatorial race about the only fuss raised is criticism directed at the Senator. Up until now we have not heard one bit of criticism directed at our Junior Senator, other than that which is shot at him for allowing the Senator to support him.

We doubt seriously if a very large vote will be had this summer. In fact, we have serious doubts if the candidates will be able to speak to enough folks, so that the word will get around that they are running for office. It was our hope that our Senator and Congressman would have no opposition this summer, but since it has come, it is our belief that the people are going to return them to office.

Under normal conditions there might have been an opportunity for the opponents to have aroused enough interest to have given the boys a tussle, but the people are not in the humor to join in political fights at the present time. Our sole interest is to beat hell out of Hitler and Hirohito.

CIVILIAN DEFENSE APPROPRIATION HELD UP.

THE last session of the Mississippi Legislature enacted House Bill No. 822, providing for the creation of a Commission composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, Secretary of State, the State Auditor and the Chairman of the State Tax Commission, and appropriated a sum not to exceed $500,000.00 for the purpose of Civilian Defense in the State of Mississippi.

Efforts have been made to secure assistance from the State for the expenditure of certain of these funds to aid the Coast Counties in making installation of the necessary air raid systems and other provisions necessary for Civilian Defense, and for the guarding of certain bridges essential for military purposes.

The Act provided that in case of a threat of invasion, or if an emergency existed, that these funds could be expended by the Commission. Application has been made to the Attorney General for an opinion as to what is necessary for the Commission to authorize these expenditures. We were advised that the Attorney General stated that it would be necessary that advice be secured from the War Department or the Navy Department advising him that an emergency existed before he could give an opinion to the effect that the Commission could spend this money.

The last session of the Legislature also made provision for the counties to spend for Civilian Defense, a sum ranging from $150.00 per month to $300.00 per month, depending on the size of the county. Of course, this is a mere drop in the bucket insofar as actual preparation for Civilian Defense is concerned.

It is our opinion that the Legislature did not intend for the counties and the cities in the restricted areas to expend money necessary for the equipping of our defense areas. If it had so intended, it would have certainly given the Board of Supervisors of each county and the municipal authorities, the right to make the necessary expenditures. Instead of this it made the necessary preparation and placed it in the hands of a Commission headed by the Governor.

Efforts were made to secure a statement from the War Department that an emergency existed and we were informed that the authorities advised that this was not necessary in view of the happenings of late in our section of the country, and that the law was explicit enough for the action by the Commission.

Lieutenant General Walter Krueger, Commanding General of the Southern Defense Command, issued a proclamation which was released on Saturday, May 30th, declaring a Military Area, and included in this area, are the three Coast Counties of Mississippi, and in his proclamation states: "Whereas the Southern Defense Command embraces portions of the United States and by its geographical location is particularly subject to attack, and, in connection therewith is subject to espionage and acts of sabotage, thereby requiring the adoption of military measures necessary to establish safeguards against such enemy operations."

We wonder if the Attorney General, in view of these facts, would not consider that the three Coast Counties of Mississippi probably need a little help, and if he would not consider that we are in a Military Area and the possibility is that we will now be living in darkness since Major General Bryden's regulations for shore lighting have been issued, and that there might be a slight possibility that some day some of our enemies may decide that the Coast has quite a number of defense projects and training schools and that they may feel that a few bombs might help their cause, and if this happened, we wonder if our Attorney General, whom we have always considered a fair minded man, could sleep with his conscience, knowing that he had held up the spending of this money because the War Department had not written him a letter telling him that an emergency existed, when all that was necessary was that he pick up any newspaper and read that enemy submarines were in the Gulf sinking ships within seventy-five miles of our coast line, and that this area was now a Military Area.

It may be that we may never be attacked, but if we are, isn't it better for our women and children that we be prepared to give them the necessary warnings and probably be able to arrange for them some air raid shelter and to put necessary guards on bridges of military value, which the counties of the Coast are not legally allowed nor financially able to do, and for which the Legislature saw fit to make the necessary provisions.

Come on, General, we know that you are fair minded and you know that necessary preparations should be made and that necessary precautions should be taken. We know that you would feel terrible if something did happen and the responsibility was placed on you! Do not let this happen!

FATHER

FATHERS could never take the place of mothers, even if they tried, but Dad's a good ole scout and it will do your heart good to see his chest swell and his face beam with pride, if you will just take time out to remember him on Father's day.

He's always been a swell companion to you and he's a good one to go to for advice. He knows just what a fellow ought to do, he's rehearsed it so many times with mother, and if you will just listen to him, you can't go wrong. He knows.

If you will just coax him along a little bit once in a while, you will find it always pays. He can always find that extra quarter or half dollar you need, even when mother says the budget won't permit.

He understands your troubles, too—He's had plenty of his own, and if you will just give him a chance he is always ready and willing to help you along with yours.

Love him, respect him and give him all the credit that is due him—he's the best fellow you ever knew.

DON'T forget the old clothes party to be held at the Red Cross production room in the K. C. Hall, Saturday morning from 10-12. The public is cordially invited. The price of admission is a bundle of old clothes. This will be an opportunity for all those who have not seen the new sewing room, to do so. Freshly painted, with many new bolts of material on its shelves, the room is efficiently equipped for anyone wishing to help with either sewing or knitting.

A class in Motor mechanics for all members of the Red Cross Motor Corps, will start Thursday night, June 18th, at eight o'clock at Arceneaux's Filling Station.

Anyone wishing to join a standard First Aid Course, or a course in Advanced First Aid are asked to communicate with Roger Heitzman, Red Cross First Aid chairman or the local Red Cross office in the Court-house.

A Red Cross Nutrition Class was organized Wednesday morning at the Episcopal parish house. Miss Eleanor Smith and Mrs. Beatrice Salter are the instructors. This is a twenty-hour course and classes will be held Tuesday and Friday mornings at 9. Anyone interested in joining the class may contact Miss Smith, Mrs. Salter or the Red Cross office.

This course will be followed by a Canteen Course, of which, Mrs. Alice Buckley will act as chairman, and Mrs. Scott Morrill as co-chairman.

Miss Emma Maurin, nursing consultant for Mississippi and Louisiana from National Red Cross headquarters in Washington, visited the local Red Cross office this past week. She also paid a visit to the hospital while the blood bank was being taken.

Miss Helen Biehl has returned from the Aquatic School at Natchitoches, Louisiana, where she passed the instructors courses in small craft, life saving and First Aid. She will begin life saving classes sometime next week, pending the securing of a wharf with sufficiently deep water in which to give instructions.

Home poultry flocks of the county on an average have doubled in size in the last two years.

Six owners of good sized flocks are keeping an accurate record of every cost, even the gas for hauling feeds and eggs. These owners will be able to know just where costs can be cut in the next year. So far the record keepers are encouraged.

Last Thursday the agent heard a discussion by a group of women in Leetown who brought out again the need for a balanced ration to make a profit in poultry. Two flock owners reported pullets laying in 4 1/2 months on a balanced mash and oats. Another flock on just corn required eight months.

Lice and mites cut down egg production and can be controlled at the cost of only a few cents. Examine yours. Pull back the feathers quickly and look for lice. Several flocks recently examined were heavily infested, to the surprise of the owners.

Lice can be controlled only by outside applications.

Four methods are: (1) Dusting with Sodium fluoride—(2) flowers of sulphur; (3) derris powder; and (4) rotenone. Dipping is: (1) with sodium water; and (2) with derris water. Greasing is with mercurial ointment. Fumigating is: (1) with nicotine sulphate (Black Leaf 40) applied to the tops of the perches at the rate of 8 ounces to each 100 feet or perch just before fowls are ready to go to roost at night. Remember, materials used to kill lice will not destroy the lice eggs. A second treatment at intervals of about 10 days will be necessary to destroy the new brood of lice. In using sodium fluoride, remember this is a poison and an irritant and must not be handled in any way that it can come in contact with food or feed.

Mites are another parasite robbing owners of eggs in this county. The most common species of mites known to the Mississippi poultryman are the roost mite and the scaly leg mite. The scaly leg mite may be controlled by dipping the bird's feet and shank in a mixture of 1 part of Kerosene and 2 parts of raw linseed oil. Another remedy is 1

Round Up Rubber

THE oil industry has been given the responsibility by President Roosevelt for the collection of as much scrap rubber as can be found. To determine quickly the amount of scrap rubber in the county an all out Nation-wide Campaign is underway.

Mr. Ellzey, Salvage for Victory chairman has notified all county chairmen to authorize the different Filling Stations to buy up all the scrap rubber they can get at the rate of one cent (1c) per pound as is. The price paid will be for the weight of the whole article and not just the amount of rubber contained in it.

The W. P. A. trucks are now collecting salvage materials for the present the main emphasis is on rubber.

If you have more rubber than you can handle please call anyone of the following, J. Roland Weston 386; Mrs. J. S. Green, Jr., 126; Mr. Luther Ansley, 58.

Drivers Group

The drivers group is off to a good start with Bryan Graham and Pete Porter as instructors. They will meet Friday night, June 19th, at 8 o'clock at Porter's garage for the first lesson in shop instruction. There is room for a few more to take this training. If you are interested report to class Friday night.

NAVY ANNOUNCES NEW PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS

Lieutenant Kenneth C. Elliott, officer in charge of Navy recruiting service for Louisiana and Mississippi, Main Station, Room 304, Customhouse, New Orleans, La., announces that new physical requirements should make it easy for any man between 17-50 to enlist in the Naval Reserve under classes V-2, V-3, V-6 and M-2.

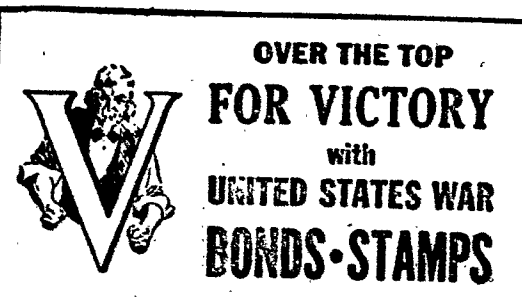

Applicants must have sufficient natural teeth for suitable prosthetic replacement to supply satisfactory biting and masticatory function. Natural teeth must be serviceable and the gums and supporting structure must be free of disease. Prosthetic replacement of teeth missing at the time of enlistment will not be authorized.

Vision
Binocular 15/20 with not less than 6/20 in the worst eye, providing no organic defect is present.

Height and Weight
Height shall be not less than 62 inches, nor more than 76 inches. Requirements regarding height and weight according to age have been dispensed with. Weight, where not caused by an organic defect, is in no way a hindrance.

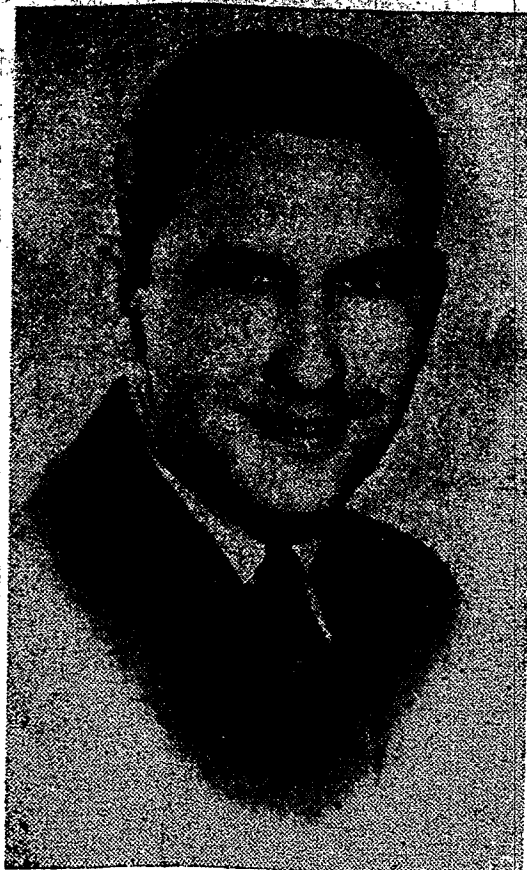

Lieut. Elliott further states that this new policy governing enlistment of men in the Naval Reserve emphasizes the need for men to man the guns and stations of your ever-increasing Navy.

Under the new physical requirements an untold number of men between the ages of 17 and 50 should be able to pass the physical examination for the Naval Reserve.

Don't forget that your fishing license will expire the end of this month. Better get it renewed. Resident fishing license costs $1.25; for the year and $3.25 for non-residents.

part oil of Caraway mixed with 5 parts of vaseline and rubbed on shanks and toes. For roost mites destroy by burning all nesting materials, and give the entire house a thorough cleaning and scalding. Clean, dry, well ventilated houses are least likely to harbor mites. Spray or paint all roosts, floors and walls with a strong disinfectant. Carbolineum is one of the more satisfactory of these disinfectants. When this is not available use one gallon of kerosene, one gallon of crude oil or crank case oil, and four ounces of crude carbolic acid or one pint of creolin or sheep dip. Kerosene alone is not effective.

Soldiers Entertained At K. C. Lounge

China Day was observed at the Soldiers Lounge at the K. C. Hall on Thursday evening with a most unique and entertaining program. There were seventy-five young soldiers from Pine Hills and the WPA recreation personnel spared no pains to make it an outstanding affair.

The decorations represented a Chinese Garden. Arches of shrubs at windows and doors and baskets filled with flowers were placed throughout the hall. A large screen with a nine-foot gold dragon and Chinese pennants and Chinese lanterns. Programs were announced by the ringing of a Chinese gong by little Bill Thomas dressed as a Chinese boy. Eight girls in Chinese costume gave an entertaining number of a Chinese song and dance. Each of the soldiers was presented with a hand painted lantern. A special Chinese tap dance was given by Maxine Strong.

The affair was colorful and the young girls all in formal dress of the different pastel shades added to the pretty scene.

WHY is it that:

ICE has a very high priority on tires and trucks; is assured repairs and supplies to manufacture and deliver uninterrupted?

Your government recognizes the absolute necessity of ice refrigeration in every community... its importance in protecting the foods and vitamins necessary for armed forces as well as civilians.

Melting ICE best conserves the food values, vitamins, minerals, flavors and tasty look of fresh perishable foods by providing (a) low temperature (b) non-thirsty humidity and (c) constantly purified air.

ICE is heavy, bulky, perishable and difficult to "package" except in very small quantities. It is not logical, therefore that many will find it possible to "fetch" their own, or for deliveries to be made other than by regular and responsible ice salesmen.

BAY ICE CO.'S PLEDGE TO YOU—

WE readily and heartily pledge all users of ICE to do everything possible (and permissible in the national interest) to provide uninterrupted carefree ice delivery service at the lowest price consistent with current costs of production and delivery.

REGISTRATION OF YOUNG MEN OF AGES 18 TO 20

To Be Held on June 30—
Will Not Be Subject To Military Service Under Present Set-Up

Approximately 60,000 young men between the ages of 18 and 20 years, inclusive, are expected to register in Mississippi, June 30, in the fifth Selective Service Registration, Major Lawrence W. Long, State Director, has announced. Hours of registration are between 7 A. M. and 9 A. M.

Major Long explained that "all men born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924, are those who must register June 30th."

Officials explained that young men 18 and 19 years of age, who must register, will not be subject to military draft until they reach the age of 20. Males between 20 and 45 are now subject to military service.

"With completion of the Fifth

Registration, provisions of the Selective Service act giving President Roosevelt authority to call for registration of all males between the ages of 18 and 65, will have been complied with," Major Long said. Local boards are making plans for the registration, and since schools are in vacation, volunteers are expected to be sought for the Fifth Registration.

"The school teachers and other volunteers in the other registrations did a splendid and patriotic job, and it may be that other citizens will be given an opportunity to demonstrate their patriotism and volunteer to replace the teachers now on vacation," Major Long said. "We are certain that sufficient patriotic citizens will offer their services to their respective boards for the Fifth Registration."

GULFPORT RESIDENT EMPLOYEE OF SOUTHERN BELL

Telephone Company Receives Award For Saving
Life of Power Lineman

William Webb Grantham, of Gulfport, who saved the life of a power lineman near Pascagoula on November 25, 1941, is one of three persons in the United States who have just been selected to receive Theodore N. Vail medals of silver plus $500 cash awards. Mr. Grantham is an installer-repairman for Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company here.

W. B. GRANTHAM

He was accorded recognition "for initiative and for prompt intelligent and courageous action" in rescuing a power lineman who had been badly burned by a high-voltage line and for "his intelligent handling of the situation after effecting the rescue," according to the citation made by a national committee.

At about 8:40 a. m. on last November 25, while traveling on duty in a company truck, the telephone man was signalled by two men on the ground, and attracted by the screams of a man on a power line pole. The injured man was hanging in his safety strap on the road side of the pole, with his leg over a neutral wire below the power line. The line, which carried 7,620 volts, had burned in two where the lineman's pliers had come in contact with it. The loose end of the circuit was alive and was hanging down toward the pole in a dangerous position.

Mr. Grantham obtained a one-inch rope, put on his climbers and donned rubber gloves, and ascended the field side of the pole. In close proximity to the high-tension wire, he looped the rope over the power bracket which was the only possible support and to which the hot wire was still attached, and tied an end of the rope around the lineman. The two men on the ground grasped the other end of the rope, pulled and raised the half-conscious lineman enough to enable Mr. Grantham to unstrap him to lower the man to the ground. Mr. Grantham rushed him to the hospital in the company truck, and then accompanied the lineman to the operating room and assisted in any way that he could.

His action, according to the citation given Mr. Grantham by the national committee, "undoubtedly saved a life."

The Vail Memorial Fund was established in 1920 in memory of Theodore N. Vail, former president and chairman of the board of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, to accord recognition to "acts of noteworthy public service which demonstrate the traditional Bell System spirit."

Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company will receive a handsome plaque in accordance with the policy of the Vail Committee to present a plaque to the company of an individual who is chosen to receive a Vail award.

Others selected to receive awards for 1941 in addition to the Gulfport man were Hazel Bell Grobert, of Kendallville, Ind., and Mrs. Mary E. Cusick, of Chicago.

UNDER NEW FOURTEEN DAY FURLOUGH PLAN

Send Off Program May Be Arranged For Boys
Entering Service

Patriotic "send off" programs for men inducted into the Army through Selective Service can now be planned with certainty because of a new induction procedure planned by the War Department and the Selective Service System, Major Lawrence W. Long, Acting State Director, has announced.

The new procedure, which becomes operative June 15, assures a two-week furlough, at government expense for travel, for every selectee who is accepted by the army unless the selectee desires to continue into service at the time of examination. This procedure sets a date for each group to report back to its Selective Service Local Board headquarters for transportation to an army reception center. Major Long explained that this date is the one for which local demonstrations should be planned.

"Since all of the men assembling at the Local Board office after a furlough period have been accepted for military service and ordered to active duty, none will be faced with the embarrassment of returning home as rejected following such ceremonies," Major Long said. "The local communities also can make their plans for those 'going away' demonstrations with definite knowledge that the men are going into active service, which was not possible under the former procedure when group departures of selectees were for the purpose of induction depending upon passing the Army physical examination."

The new arrangement replaces the present system of granting inductees ten-day furloughs upon request and is expected to eliminate any injustice which might occur to men inducted immediately following physical examination by the Army. "Although every attempt has been made to grant ten-day furloughs upon request," Major Long declared, "there have been some instances when such requests were denied and in other cases inductees were unable to pay their transportation to return home. As the new system calls for the immediate release of all men who wish to go home and payment of the costs of their travel by the Army, there would be no discrimination against any inductee."

"The Army will furnish transportation, meals and lodging of such reservist enroute to the city in which the local board is located and from that point to the Reception Center."

"There will be no change in the present procedure for delivery of registrants to the induction station by the local board, or for the return of rejected men to the local board area from the induction station."

"In the case of inducted men who do desire to return to their homes the following procedure will be followed at the induction station: (a) The inducted man will be transferred immediately to the Enlisted Reserve Corps and will be given an order to proceed to the city in which his local board is located."

"(b) At the same time an order will be issued recalling him to active service on a certain date and ordering him to proceed on that date from the city in which the local board is located to a designated Reception Center for duty. The normal period between transfer to the Enlisted Reserve Corps and recall to active service will be fourteen days. This period may be extended or shortened by not to exceed two days in order to meet processing schedules at Reception Center, or to prevent Sunday travel."

Another feature of the present system which will be eliminated by the new procedure, the Director said, will be possible delay between the time a man is inducted and the time he is granted a furlough. Under the new procedure, the transfer to Enlisted Reserve Corps will occur on the same day that the man is inducted and there is no likelihood that he will have to wait two to five days before he can return to his home as sometimes happens under the present system.

Gentlemen:

I would like to take this as a means of expressing to the publisher and employees of the Sea Coast Echo, my appreciation for the thoughtfulness shown by them in mailing an unsolicited copy of the paper to the members of the armed forces of the United States.

Words are unable to express the feelings of an individual 10,000 or more miles away from home, when he receives news from those with whom he has spent the majority of his life. It is just such little things as this that make one see the brighter side of life when the shoe begins to pinch, the meals get further apart and Jap bombers raise hell with you.

Clyde W. Sylvester,
Capt. Air Corps Commanding."

We are in receipt of a card from Claude Quintini, who is now a member of Co. C, 3rd Reg. Fort Warren, Wyoming, in which he states that the boys up there have been receiving the Echo every week, and that it is really a pleasure to read your home town paper when you are so far away. He says that the weather up there is really nice and that they had snow the first few days when they arrived.

From Oliver B. Cospelich, Jr., a young colored boy who enlisted in the Navy and who is aboard the U. S. S. So. Dakota:

"Dear Sir:
I received the Echo and I am very grateful. I want to thank you and I am sure that all the other boys feel the same. It really makes me happy to know that the folks back home are thinking of those in the service.

Looking forward to my next copy of the Echo, and wishing you the best of luck in all your undertakings, Oliver B. Cospelich, Jr., Matt 1st U. S. S. So. Dakota, Div. O, c/o Postmaster, New York City."

H. T. CARR'S GARDEN

Quite one of the finest vegetable gardens anywhere around is that of the Carrs in Clermont Harbor. No new fangled Victory garden this, for Mr. and Mrs. Carr have been gardening for many years.

Long rows of beans just ripe for processing, sturdy tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, okra, and many other vegetables make this a supremely fine garden, of which the owners are justly proud.

A young orchard, laid out at one side boasts of peach, pear, cherry and fig trees.

The house is of unusual architecture completely encircled by a screen porch. Beds of roses, elephant ears, tube-roses, gladiolus, edge the green lawn. A hundred healthy chickens, good layers all, and two workers in the rear complete the grounds of the attractive country place.

Inside, from the attic studio of the eldest daughter of the house, to the cool preserving cellar below, the house is most unique and attractive. Hundreds of home-canned new potatoes, string beans, squash and many other canned vegetables, pickles and preserves are found on the storage shelves.

The house is furnished entirely with pieces made by Mr. Carr. Tables, chairs, settees, beds and dressing tables of modernistic design testify to his expert workmanship.

Fluorescent lighting in each room completes the very modern up to date air of this home.

Soldiers of Production

America's "soldiers of production," men and women working in the plants of American industry, have their uniforms, too. Some uniforms worn by G-E workers on vital production jobs are shown below.

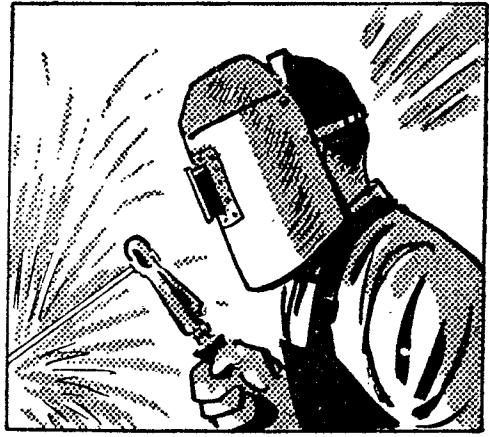

1. Not a gas mask, but a special nose mask to guard his breathing, is worn by this spray painter at his job in one of the General Electric plants.

2. Like a man from Mars, the "cold room" research man is a strange sight as he tests airplane instruments for high-altitude performance in a G-E laboratory.

3. Frankenstein? No, just another G-E worker. His job is sandblasting big turbine castings for Uncle Sam's ships at one of the General Electric plants.

4. The helmet he wears is to protect him from light! The rays from a welder's arc could cause blindness if he did not wear this strange headgear.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.

THE WAR

FOR many months before Pearl Harbor we were among those in Congress who pointed out that America was unprepared to come to blows with the Axis powers who possessed the largest, most deadly, and by far the most effective war machine the world has ever witnessed. But there came a day six months ago when a portion of that machine swarmed out of the blue skies of the Pacific to attack our position located at Pearl Harbor, Wake Island, and the Philippines, manned by the little yellow men of Japan. The fact that this was a dastardly, cowardly attack without warning caused considerable loss to our Navy. But today the picture is gradually changing. At the time of Pearl Harbor the Congress, with the backing of the President, had set a goal for a $6,000,000,000 war machine. That figure has rapidly gone upward until today our sights have been raised to a $200,000,000,000 war machine; and the program still grows. It might be interesting to note that Hitler had envisioned a $100,000,000,000 war machine—but of course dollars alone do not count. But those dollars have been and are being rapidly converted into machines. When the President spoke six months ago of an air force of 60,000 planes some people scoffed at the time this country was producing less than 2000 planes a month. Today, six months later, the production is in excess of 5000 planes a month, and next year we can produce around 100,000 planes if that becomes necessary.

Moreover, the men to man those machines are rapidly being trained. Tanks and ships are being produced on a similar scale. The Army, as we pointed out last week, is rapidly being enlarged.

Midway

But, again, the possession of a war machine within itself means nothing unless that machine is mobilized and gets results. This past week we saw first hand results of this preparation policy. When two Japanese fleets set out with the purpose apparently of taking over Hawaii and Midway, as well as gaining a foothold on the Aleutian Islands, there was no repetition of Pearl Harbor. On the contrary, our air forces and fleet were found on the alert and not only succeeded in driving the enemy off but dealt him a crippling blow. Instead of gaining their objectives their losses were tremendous. American production is at an all-time high, and this production bids no good tidings for the forces who oppose us.

Family Allowances for Dependents Of Enlisted Men

Aid for the dependents of enlisted men will be provided under the terms of a bill that has passed both Houses of Congress and is now in conference to iron out minor differences.

The allowances are for two classes of dependents: (A) wife and child and (b) parents or brother or sister. The total amount of the allowance in some of the most typical cases will be as follows: Class A—Wife, if no child, $50 per month; wife with one child, $62; wife with more than one child, $10 additional for each; no wife but one child, $42; no wife but two children, $52; with $10 for each additional child. Class B—(1) If there is no Class A dependent, one parent, $37; two parents, $47; one parent and one brother or sister, $47; no parents but one brother or sister, $27; no parents but two brothers and sisters, $32. Class B—(2) If there is also a Class A dependent, one parent, $20; two parents, $30; one parent and one brother or sister, $25; one parent and two brothers or sisters, $30; no parents but one brother or sister, $10; no parents but two brothers or sisters, $15.

A deduction of $22 will be made from the soldier's pay, and the Government will contribute the remainder of the above. In case there are both Class A and Class B dependents, an addition $5 or a total of $27 will be deducted from the soldier's pay. The deduction is compulsory in the case of Class A dependents (a wife and child), but is voluntary as far as Class B dependents (parents, brother, or sister) are concerned. That is, a parents or brother or sister may be given an allowance only if the soldier is agreeable to a deduction from his pay for their upkeep.

ORTIE THEATER PRESENTS "GHOST OF FRANKENSTEIN"

This Sunday and Monday, June 21-22

Three times the "Frankenstein" films have blazed a trail of terror across the nation's screens to prove to the top attractions of the field of horror drama.

Now comes a fourth, "The Ghost of Frankenstein," which is advanced as the most sensational film of the "Frankenstein" series. The Universal drama opens Sunday and Monday at the Ortie Theater, Cedric Hardwicke, Lon Chaney, Lionel Atwill, Ralph Bellamy, Bela Lugosi, Evelyn Ankers, and Janet Ann Galloway in the cast.

Inaugurated Series

Original film in the series, "Frankenstein," was a horror hit of 1931 and Universal subsequently produced "The Bride of Frankenstein" in 1935 and "Son of Frankenstein" in 1939. In the new offering, Hardwicke plays "Dr. Frankenstein," son of the infamous doctor who originally created the devastating Monster.

Among eerie situations in the new drama is one in which the doctor attempts to perform a daring operation, to give the Monster a sane mind and transform the creature into an instrument of good rather than evil.

Role Is Unique

Chaney enacts the Monster role, following his successful interpretation of "The Wolf Man" in the previous schlocker of that title.

W. Scott Darling wrote the screen play from an original story by Eric Taylor.

Two of Universal's top-ranking cameramen, Milton Krasner and Woody Bredell, were employed to photograph the weird effects in the picture. Art Director Jack Otterson is also credited with creating the original settings which amplify the sensational atmosphere sequences.

The new film was directed by Erle C. Kenton and George Waggner presided as producer.

Weekly Book Review

"THE LAST FRONTIER"

By Howard Fast, Reviewed by Kenneth Knoblock

It was J. B. Priestly, a few years ago, who forecast that America's great literature, when it came, would have the West as its setting. The argument seemed sound at the time, since the other great American canvas had produced only one great book, "The Red Badge of Courage," smothered under forests of trash stemming from the Gone With the Wind tradition.

A year ago, whether by coincidence or by direct inspiration, Priestly's forecast was proved up a great Western book, "The Oxford Bow Incident." Now, and also with a copy in the Hancock County library, comes another and a greater book, actually a transcendent work of literature, "The Last Frontier," by Howard Fast.

Mr. Fast is young, merely 26, but amazing, with three previous books to his credit.

"The Last Frontier" must be his masterpiece; it is, at any rate, a masterpiece. With power and discretion, with magnificent descriptive gifts, it deals with the heira of 300 starving Cheyenne Indians in 1878, pursued and surrounded by 12,000 soldiers, from the then Indian Territory to their ancient homeland in the Black Hills of Dakota. The story has the Aristotelean quality of pity and terror and Struther Burt's comment on the historical facts on which it was based, that there was a retreat equalled only by Xenophon's "March of the Ten Thousand," is fully justified by Mr. Fast. And this not only in the factual basis of the tale, but also in the writing.

The lean economy and hard characterization of these two books should be a lesson to the pulp Western writers, if not to the more hopeless case of the peddlers to magazines.

Castle on the Hill

By Elizabeth Goudge

Reviewed by Mrs. Caroline Dale Sneider

The Hancock County Library has just purchased Elizabeth Goudge's latest book "Castle on the Hill." The story is laid in war time England—1940 to be exact. And though written in Miss Goudge's usual classic style makes you realize perhaps as a rougher writer could not, the suffering and uncertainty and tragedy of that terrible year.

The characters are Londoners and the people of a castle which is far out in the west country. There are two children but they do not take the center of the stage as in most of Miss Goudge's books, and the story moves through tragic events happening to people who might easily be your own friends. They are real people, not the down and outs usually depicted these days and for that reason their sorrows seem very near to us.

The castle in the center of the story, splendidly depicted in appearance and in its history, as Miss Goudge would do it. It has been inhabited for 900 years by one family, the present members of which are the lovely people.

When the castle is bombed and the family scattered to the winds you feel the shock of it almost as if you had heard it and seen it yourself.

PRESIDENT Roosevelt has recommended a heavy cut in W. P. A. funds for the ensuing year, beginning July first. The indications are that the appropriation will be cut down more than half from what it was a year ago. It will be the policy of the government to use all relief cases possible in some sort of defense work, serving the double purpose of supplying relief and getting the work for the war effort at the same time.

Magnolia Boys' State

A fine bunch of young men high school boys, from over the state held the Boys Magnolia State meeting in Jackson last week. They had a young man named to each state office and a legislative body, which followed substantially the lines of a regular legislature and state officials. This is fine experience for the young men and out of the group may come a future governor in reality.

World's Largest Bomber

The July issue of Flying and Popular Aviation gives a description of the world's largest bomber. The B-19 has a wing spread of 212 feet, is powered by four 2,000 h. p. engines and weighs 82 tons. It was under construction four years, 700,000 hours of engineering, 42,500 hours of researching and testing and between three and a half and five million dollars went into the giant bomber. It is a veritable "flying laboratory." Its practical usefulness has not been fully established but it will soon be known. It is really and truly one of the world's greatest feats of mechanical engineering, and it is believed that it will be perfected, if not already. Its builders claim that it will be able to fly one-fourth the distance around the world without refueling.

Arkansas to Get Colony of Japs.

The government is locating a colony of 10,000 Japs from the West Coast in the State of Arkansas. They will be located on a 12,000-acre Farm Security Administration tract of land in Desha County, where they will be engaged in agricultural work, at least to the extent of developing and putting in proper condition for cultivation certain cut-over land. The War Department will maintain military control of the colony and they will not be allowed to enter into competition with Arkansas farmers. They will not be allowed to buy land in the state and will be removed from the state at the conclusion of the war. The matter of locating a second 10,000 under similar conditions is now under consideration.

Jack Dale, editor of the Water Valley Herald, has abandoned the tripod for the present and enlisted in the armed forces of his country. He has gone to Camp Shelby for formal induction. Mr. Dale is a popular and well known editor and before locating in Water Valley had charge of the Associated Press at Jackson. The Pen has abdicated, for the time being, in favor of the Sword, but has given up to vested rights and the debate will go on.

Traffic Law Study

An Emergency Traffic Law Enforcement Program has been set out all over the country, suggestive of action and study on the traffic laws, enforcement, and a general application of better methods of operation with a view of conserving human life. The importance of the movement is emphasized by the mention of the 40,000 traffic deaths in 1941 and 1,400,000 injuries in addition to the deaths. It is an effort to induce police and traffic officers to be more vigilant and aggressive in their duties.

Baking Around

County Attorney Henry Barksdale of Hinds County has been called into the service of the Naval Reserve, and R. T. Hilton has been named by the Governor to discharge the duties of county attorney in the absence of Mr. Barksdale. The U. S. Marine corps recruiting station in Jackson enlisted 121 new men during the month of May. At the present time there are in use in the United States 21,262,000 telephones. The OPA is getting started to work in the matter of checking prices and fixing the ceilings; and for this work Leon Henderson is asking the government for 90,000 workers at an annual cost of $200,000,000. Sam Wong, who operates a Chinese restaurant in Quincy, Illinois, offered a Chinese vase, valued at $1,000 to the first man who would drop a bomb on Tokyo, and after the performance he tendered the vase to Jimmie Doolittle, which was all right. The Highway department of Arkansas has adopted a speed limit of 40 miles per hour. "Noise Abatement Week" is being tried out in Arkansas this week. Washington finally got around to it. Now it's "work or fight" for all workers who refuse suitable employment in war plants. A strong block in Congress is fighting gasoline rationing. West coast people announce that if the Japs put on air raids in their section they are ready.

"TRIPOLI" INSPIRING ACTION FILM AT A. & G. SUNDAY & MONDAY

Technicolor Movie of Marines Stars, Payne, O'Hara And Scott.

The smashing story of the U. S. Marine Corps and what it takes to turn out a fighting "leatherneck" will be brilliantly brought to the screen in 20th Century-Fox's Technicolor epic, "To the Shores of Tripoli," which opens at the A. & G. Theater Sunday.

The Daryl F. Zanuck production is made to order for every patriotic American, and as a credit to those men who fought their way to glorious posterity at Wake Island.

There is nothing more heroically traditional than the spirit of the Marines, and "To the Shores of Tripoli" shows us what makes them that way. Most of the action takes place at the San Diego Marine Base, and it is there that John Payne, a raw recruit, is turned into a first class fighting man by Sergeant Randolph Scott. For the romantic interest, which no Marine would be without, Maureen O'Hara has been placed in the role of a lovely Navy nurse. Naturally, John succumbs to her charms and Irish temper. A know-it-all attitude on his part threatens to keep him away from becoming a true "devil-dog," but when the finale comes, John is up in front as a true son of the Marine forces.

The acting by Payne, Miss O'Hara and Scott leaves nothing to be desired and the rest of the cast which includes such top performers as Nancy Kelly, William Tracy, Edmund MacDonald, Russell Hicks and Minor Watson is first-rate.

Special credit should be given to Director Bruce Humberstone, who has given the picture a true feeling of the spirit of the Marine Corps. A fast-moving screen play by Lamar Trotti adds immeasurably to the film's excellence.

Every American will want to see this stirring film. And after they see it, there will be many a better American for having done so! See "To the Shores of Tripoli" and you will realize why you should "Remember Wake Island!"

"TENDING TO OUR KNITTING"

In this critical hour—when men and machines must strain every energy to push war training and war production up and up—there's another job we're keeping constantly in mind.

True, in the field of war effort, we're going full blast—24 hours a day—168 hours a week—supplying every last watt of electricity called for by military and naval projects and by vital production operations on the industrial front.

That's our biggest job today. And we're "signed up"—right with you—for Victory.

But there's another job we don't forget or neglect or leave for a minute. That's the home front. In the midst of the roar of war work—we go on about our day-to-day, night-by-night work of supplying your homes with the services you need for daily living. Stores, offices, churches, theatres, newspapers, radio stations, food and dairy stations, hospitals... these, too, are the essence of life—and must be supplied, maintained, protected to the utmost permitted by the war effort.

You depend on these as parts of your community life. They depend on us. We are dedicated to their service—and yours.

Just as we have done during all the problems of the past, we carry on amid the strain of today, doing our level best to keep "tending to our knitting."

JIM EASTLAND IN SENATE RACE

Started Fight for Farmer and South During 3-Month Term

Former Senator James O. Eastland has formally opened his campaign for election to the United States Senate, subject to the Democratic primaries August 26th, 1942.

It will be remembered that Senator Eastland was appointed to the Senate last summer following the death of Senator Pat Harrison and served in the Senate while in the office of the Clerk of this Board, we wish to submit the following bids, to-wit:

His tenure in the Senate was marked by a degree of activity seldom seen on the part of an elected appointee. His term was from June 30th until September 30th during which time the cotton crop was in process of harvesting and being marketed. Ceiling prices were being attempted to be placed on cottonseed oil and pine timber.

Senator Eastland took advantage of the opportunity and led a group fighting the deflationary forces that were alarmed by the advancing farm prices. He introduced a bill to prevent government owned stocks of cotton being placed upon the market in competition to the then current crop.

He assailed President Czar Leon Henderson for his attempt to fix a price on cottonseed oil below its quoted market value and fought to increase the ceiling price fixed on pine timber. He likewise prevented the importation of 400,000 bales of Brazilian cotton. It was acknowledged that his record fight for cotton was marked with a degree of success that brought him national recognition.

The only war measure to come before the U. S. Senate during his term was the extension of the draft. Eastland voted for the extension of the draft act and for an increase in basic soldier pay of ten dollars a month.

Senator Eastland is a native of Scott County, Mississippi, and formerly represented that county in the legislature. He now lives at Ruleville, Sunflower County, and is a lawyer and farmer. He is thirty-eight years old, married, and has two children.

His headquarters in Jackson is located at 116 Roach Street, across from the Tower Building. He welcomes letters and correspondence from anyone interested in his campaign. Joe E. Brown, of Natchez, has been appointed campaign manager.

Library Notes

The Hancock County Library Board will present Mrs. Eblin Rau on Tuesday, June 23 who will review Steinback's "The Moon is Down."

Mrs. Rau is no stranger to Bay St. Louis and the book lovers have a treat in store.

The review will be held at the Episcopal Parish House at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, June 23.

Miss Crawford and the entire library personnel are wearing bright smiles these days, the reason for which is another gift of four adult and six junior books sent the library from the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. These books which of course new would have cost the library near twenty dollars if they had been purchased but instead they are gifts.

The adult books are: "Paddy the Cope," Masani's "Our India," Nehru's "Toward Freedom," Nevins' "America in World Affairs."

Junior books are "Alaska," "Canada," "Mexico," "Timothy Taylor, Ambassador to Goodwill," "Tito, the Pig of Guatemala," and "Kobi, a Boy of Switzerland."

flavor of milk, care should be taken to keep cows healthy and clean; the milk house be located so as to be free from dust and stable odors; milkers wash their hands with soap and water and wear clean outer clothing for each milking; all utensils be kept clean; and that proper milking techniques be provided.

To obtain milk with good flavor it is pointed out that all gaily flavored feeds, such as silage, should be given to the cows immediately after milking, not just before.

"With many farmers shifting from the production and marketing of cream to the production and delivery of whole milk, it is of great importance for them to learn how to produce and market whole milk of unquestionable purity."

"Buyers and graders at the processing plants have an increased responsibility as a result of these shifts in marketing methods, and also because many farmers are now selling milk for the first time."

Standardize Lamb Production
Producers should wear all lambs now an order to run rams with ticks July 1 and have next year's lambs weaned in December and January. Separate late lambs from ewes. Until milk flow stops keep ewes on short pasture. Watch udders of ewes and keep them partially milked out if necessary to prevent inflammation and possibly loss.

Tag (cut away) dungy, locks. "Flush" ewes by turning from thin onto better pasture and possibly giving a half-pound or a pound of oats, or corn and oats daily for each ewe. These are practices necessary now to obtain uniform 1943 cooperative shipments of spring lambs. Requirements for success with sheep are few but exacting. Get a copy of Mississippi Extension bulletin No. 86 if you do not have it.

Lambs graded and sold cooperatively at Macon, May 27, brought 14 1/2 cents a pound for choice lambs, 13 cents for good lambs, 12 cents for medium lambs and 9 cents for common lambs. When you figure the lighter weights of the lower grades the income from their rams for the year is much less than when the lambs are heavier and grade higher, of course. Another cooperative lamb sale will be held at Macon, June 30, and one at the Kennett Murry Yards, Jackson, June 27. A cooperative lamb sale has been scheduled tentatively for Sta.ville, June 22.

A trip has been planned by Mississippi farmers into Tennessee the week of June 22 to inspect and buy rams.

The value of Southdown and Hampshire rams on Mississippi grade ewes has the sanction of research and demonstration results. The importance of organized production and standardization in spring lamb production practices has been shown in Tennessee and in the spring lamb counties of Mississippi. Contact this office at once should you need any rams in your neighborhood. Prices probably will range from $35 to $65, according to Paul F. Newell, extension animal husbandman.

Government Program
Heavy present taxes, price ceilings, stabilized remuneration for labor, stabilized farm prices, bond purchases, rationing, and debts reduction as outlined by President Roosevelt in his seven point program for controlling inflation and avoiding the hardships of both inflation and the deflation apt to follow in its wake. There is a danger of our failing to be alert to the danger, which can not be measured by the debacle which followed World War I. Today war expenditures are tremendously greater—we are in changed and possibly more rapidly changing epoch than any we have known. We will pay our taxes ungrudgingly, accept rationing graciously and will conserve vital materials, pay all debts we can and buy wholeheartedly all the bonds we can. We will produce all we can of the products our nation needs for the earliest possible Victory and we will trust that we will be enabled to meet all goals. Less than this none of us can, or would do—with our soldiers fighting over the entire world. Neither as farmers nor as Mississippians have we ever been accused of being slackers. We will do our part for Victory, and to maintain American Democracy.

Waveland News

Rubber Salvage Campaign Is On in Waveland.

SERVICE stations throughout the town will start receiving scrap rubber of all descriptions in line with the two week drive requested by President Roosevelt to divert old unused rubber into the war effort. Persons donating rubber are requested to bring it to the nearest service station. It is especially necessary in Mississippi for all people to cooperate in order that we can forestall gasoline rationing. It may be, if people will deprive themselves of some unessential rubber, that they may be able to enjoy the use of their cars that much longer. A small rubber object might be an extra tire tread. Search your home, attic, basement and back yard. Turn in unused rubber tires, broken water bottles, worn-out rubber heels—anything containing rubber that is not in regular use. We have not yet received any definite instructions from anyone in authority to pay for the rubber—but the association has anticipated this drive and has set aside a fund for the payment of the scrap rubber.

A large group of relatives and friends here attended Mary Elizabeth Jackson's wedding to Louis Ranson of Bay St. Louis. They were married in the rectory by Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch.
